Settle this Case!

I believe this case should never have gotten this far.
It should be thrown out of court.

The software industry is probably the strongest industry in this country.
Instead of promoting it, its being torn apart by jealous compeditors of Microsoft. Microsoft is the leading cause of the gains in technology this industry has had. Its speculation to say other businesses or competition would have emerged if Microsoft wasn't aggressive in their innovative goals. The Industry could just as well be ten years behind if they didn't persue their innovative goals.

Bundling is a good thing. I worked for 17+ years for a computer Mfg Co.
and know the negative results of having to get different software products to work together and having to install software patches.

This case is not in the CONSUMERS BEST INTEREST, its the compeditors who want to stop Microsoft from being succesful.

What company every went in business to be Number Two!!
Whats wrong with chairing for your own team to be the best!
Why is Microsoft to be expected to have to write software to its competitions advantage and product and not specific to their own, Apple Computer has been doing that for years.
